

Tarfali in Roman employ attacked
 the territory of the TISZA SARMATIANS located "right next to their own settlements."
 This would mean that the western boundary of the Tarfalian territory extended far westward, perhaps even beyond the ALPUS
 all the way into OLTENIA.

Constantius II led the APARAGANTES (who were living with the Vandals) back into the BAVAT, where they settled as Roman federates under royal leadership. The LIMIGANTES, however, were decisively defeated in 358 and 359 by a Roman army with help from barbarian allies.

358/59 AD

Jewish Cal.

To preserve the unity of Israel, the patriarch HILLEL II in 358/59, published the "secret" of the Cal making which essentially consisted of the use of the Babylonian 19-yr cycle with some modifications required by the Jewish ritual

358/359

Essay Book

Jewish Cal. (Hillel II)

To preserve the unity of Israel
the patriarch Hillel II, in 358/359,
published the "secret" of calendar
making, which essentially consisted of the use of the Babylonian 19-yr
cycle with some modifications
required by the Jewish ritual